

October 2021

Share With Your Customers

Metal Building Innovations are Revolutionizing Low Rise Commercial Construction

In the most recent video series, “How it’s Made,” by the Metal Building Manufacturers Association (MBMA), the organization explains the growth of metal buildings because of the many innovations that are transforming construction in the low-rise commercial sector. This is a video you won’t want to miss and will want to share with your potential customers.

For more videos or information from the MBMA, check out their website.
In addition, to check out videos from CBC Steel Buildings, visit our video library on the Builder Dashboard.